

Chat from Transforming Schools: Dr. Fran Prolman 12 March 2018

Hello AAIE Members! We will be starting in 5 Minues!
From Tara Waudby : Hi All. Happy to be there. Just a quick note to say I have a meeting in 30 mins to plan for the Compassion Summit next week, so I will be leaving early. Apologies!
From swilliams : Quito, Ecuador
From Russ : Hi there. This is Russ Menard from the American International School of Lusaka in Zambia
From Tara Waudby : Tara from ISG, Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. Apologies again for needing to leave a bit early.
From Tim Carr : Just moved back from to the US from Jakarta in June. Now in Massachusetts, working for Avenues. I also will be on for about 40 min only, but glad to be here for this event.
From blettinga : Greetings, Brian Lettinga - The International School of Belgrade
From swilliams : Susan Williams from ASQ Quito, Ecuador
If you have questions for Dr. Fran - please type here and we can try to answer these at the end of the session

From Timothy Kelley : I worry about the apparent dichotomy of self trust or inviting transformation versus the vulnerability of an organisation to those colleagues who identify initiatives as inherently 'enforced' transformation. I am all for the safety of making mistakes but where does one draw the line with professional accountability?

From Tim Carr : Thanks folks! Really enjoyed this thought-provoking session. I look forward to the next one. Cheers!

From Russ : Thanks everyone. Very interesting.

From swilliams : Thanks, Fran and AAIE for setting this up. Looking forward to the next one.

From blettinga : Fran, another amazing session! Thanks so much to AAIE and Fran for offering this session. Fran, see you in Prague later in the week. Have a great week, everyone!

From Timothy Kelley : Great answer to my question Fran, I had asked prior to your learning zone example...and I appreciated the perspective that accountability and transformation are not necessarily a polarity!

From Michael Lees : Excellent! Thanks very much. Signing off from Cuba.
