Margaret Sanders' career with Walsworth Publishing Company began in 1961, and during the subsequent four decades, she traveled the world assisting schools with the publication of their yearbooks. This exciting career afforded her the opportunity to develop a close identification with overseas "American/International" schools and their diverse and interesting populations. Mrs. Sanders established this scholarship fund to "give back" to this community, which gave her so many exciting opportunities and personal rewards. More specifically, The Margaret Sanders Foundation was established to fund educational opportunities for members of the overseas schools community. Graduating high school students from AAIE member schools and from one of the various educational Regions are eligible to apply. Only one candidate from each region will be put forward for the final selection process.

The scholarships will be awarded to the students who demonstrate character strengths such as persistence and motivation, resourcefulness, and acceptance of other cultures and points of view. The nominated students should also display a genuine interest in, and sustained commitment to, the welfare of others, as reflected through participation in school activities, and community/civic involvement. Factors considered in the selection process include academic achievement, financial needs, and higher education and vocational aspirations. Leadership and contributions to, or directly address, community and societal needs and solutions will be considered in the selection process.
